STATE REORGANIZATION BILL IS UP TONIGHT

GOES TO THE HOUSE, MAY BE RECONSTRUCTED

ADMINISTRATION FORCES FAVOR REHABILITATED FORM

SENATE YESTERDAY ADOPTED SEVERAL AMENDMENTS

(By United Press)

St. Paul, April 2.—The state reorganization bill will go to the house tonight where efforts will be made by proponents of the measure to reconstruct the bill into its original plan of reorganization of the Minnesota government.

Administration forces in the house hoped to return it to the senate in a rehabilitated form for conference committee action.

The senate yesterday adopted the Devold amendment to the bill which replaces the article calling for a department of administration and finance by another giving the executive council control of appointive officials.

The executive council consists of state officers.

The amendment was first adopted by the senate by a vote of 35 to 31 at the morning's session. In the afternoon the senate voted 34 to 33 to reconsider. It was then adopted by a vote of 34 to 33. The voting hinged around Senator William Flicker of LeSueur who changed his vote three times.

MOTOR BUS GROSS EARNINGS TAX BILL

St. Paul, April 2.—The Minnesota house of representatives will consider under special orders a bill levying a 15 per cent occupational tax on motor bus gross earnings.

This was decided today when the house voted 32 to 26 to reject the motor vehicle report killing the bill.

The body also rejected a plan to send the bill back to the committee for further action.

The move to reconsider the bill was led by Rep. Marius Waldil of Red Lake county.

CLAIM "JOKER" IN DEVOLD AMENDMENT

St. Paul, April 2.—Further consideration of the state reorganization bill and its numerous amendments was postponed at 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.

A "joker," according to members of the senate, is in the Devold amendment eliminating certain finance provisions from the bill as originally drafted. The "joker" would return the board of control impending under an adopted amendment to be retained as at present constituted to the provisions of the original bill.

Discovery of this unsuspected provision created consternation and Senator Claude McKenzie, chairman of the civil administration committee, ordered the bill considered

As a result of a "Learn English campaign" in Rochester, N. Y., the pledges of 2,500 persons to join a class in English and learn to speak, read and write the language were obtained. The goal, originally set at 2,000, was raised when this mark was passed.

MINNESOTA SENATE MOTOR VEHICLE COMMITTEE MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS

(By United Press)

St. Paul, April 2.—Possibility of still further increases not only in the gasoline tax, but in the automobile license fees was forecast today.

The Minnesota senate motor vehicle committee recommended an increase in the proposed gasoline tax from 2 cents as passed by the house to 2½ cents.

The same committee recommended also that the minimum taxes on motor vehicles be raised from the reduced figures left by the house to points higher than those now in existence.

The total proceeds will increase highway fund receipts more than $6,000,000 under the present plan, it is expected.

The bills will be up for senate action tomorrow and if adopted as planned by the motor vehicle committee must come back to the house in its changed form for further action.

The minimum license fees under the senate bills would be $12.50 instead of $12.00 as at present and instead of $10.00 as provided in the house bill.

CHAPMAN TO TAKE STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

BANDIT CROOK TO FACE CONNECTICUT YANKEE JURY

CLAIMS HE HAS A "PERFECT ALIBI" TO WIN HIS FREEDOM

(By United Press)

Hartford, Conn., April 2.—Gerald Chapman will take the stand in his own defense today.

The "bandit crook" will try personally to convince the Connecticut Yankee jury of his choice that he was in Brooklyn, New York, the day Policeman James J. Skelly was murdered in New Britain.

With his "perfect alibi" and the proverbial Chapman luck, Gerald hopes to escape the gallows whose shadows have been upon him since the opening day of the trial.

BANDIT IS HEAVILY GUARDED

Hartford, Conn., April 2.—Heavy police and sheriff guards were strung around the court house here when Gerald Chapman was scheduled to go on the stand as his own star witness in his trial for alleged murder.

Fear that Chapman's friends of the underworld would attempt to rescue him even at the cost of his gaining a way to freedom, caused the guards to be placed.

Only a handful of the hundreds of persons who sought a seat in the courtroom were permitted to enter and then the doors were closed to all except newspaper men and officers.

CHAPMAN DEFENSE CLOSED TODAY

Hartford, Conn., April 2.—Gerald Chapman, "ace of crooks," closed his own defense on a murder charge here today and arguments will begin this afternoon. By tomorrow the jury which Chapman himself picked, may be considering the evidence.

CHAPMAN DENIES KILLING POLICEMAN

Hartford, Conn., April 2.—Gerald Chapman, "prince of crooks," testified in his own defense here today and said positively he never was in New Britain, Connecticut, and therefore, could not have killed Policeman James Skelly.

Chapman, whose daring jail breaks have made him a police character of national fame, came forward shortly before 11 a. m. to match his wits against those of the prosecution in an effort to save himself from the gallows. He is being tried on a charge that he murdered Skelly during an attempted holdup. It was the big climax of the trial when Chapman was called—and a move in keeping with his daring—to determine whether he is an innocent man or is ready to stake everything he had on one gigantic bluff.

The court room was filled, every seat was taken. A firearm expert had just left the stand and there was a shifting of the audience and shuffling of feet.

"Call Gerald Chapman," suddenly thundered Fred J. Groehl, pointing to the "ace of crooks."

In a twinkling the stillness of a tomb was over the court room. All eyes strained towards the small, quiet man with a poker face, who got up from his chair and with all the assurances of a man walking across the room for a glass of water, stepped to the witness stand.

Chapman hardly changed expression.

"My name is Gerald Chapman," he testified, and the crowd moved forward as if at last satisfied that this man really was the "prince of crooks" and the center of all the excitement.

He admitted he knew Walter Shean, saying he met him last June.

"I never was in New Britain, Connecticut, in my life," he answered, with a steady face, looking straight into the eyes of his lawyer.

"Were you in a store in New Britain that was robbed the night of October 12th," came the question.

"No, certainly not. I say I never was in New Britain in my life."

Rep. J. D. Odergard, Sherburne county, led the fight against the resolution, defending the prohibition laws and declaring there was far less drunkenness now than before the laws were enacted.

The discussion ended when it came time for consideration of seven bills under special orders.

Six of these bills relate to the banking laws. The seventh provides for erection of a girl's dormitary at the University of Minnesota.

The formal statement issued by Schwartz and associates emphatically denied that any consolidation of Dodge with any other company or companies was contemplated. U. S. URGED TO CONCENTRATE ON BIG BOOTLEGGERS

SAYS DRY LAW IS NOT PROPERLY ENFORCED ON THE COAST

Washington, April 2.—Prohibition is not being properly enforced on the Atlantic seaboard because of inadequate co-operation between federal enforcement agencies, political influences, laxity of federal attorneys and a failure to give more attention to the big bootleggers, Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, yesterday told the senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau.

By crowding court dockets with cases against the "pint" bootleggers and truck drivers, enforcement officials, declared Mrs. Willebrandt, who has charge of prohibition cases in the department of justice, are not striking at their source of supply. To do this, she asserted, there must be more concentration on the big botlegger operators.

Political influences are a serious obstacle to enforcement, Mrs. Willebrandt said, mentioning in this connection particularly the state of New Jersey, and she indorsed a step that would assist in eliminating these by the placing of prohibition agents under the civil service.

Testifying in regard to federal attorney appointments, the witness said she had protested against the appointment of a "man by the name of Littleton" as special assistant to the attorney general to try prohibition cases in western Pennsylvania. He was appointed, she testified, at the request of Secretary Mellon," to prosecute certain "bribery" cases, and after one case had been tried and lost, he had moved that the others be nolle prossed. As reported to her, she said, the court had refused to do this on the ground that the cases had not been "properly presented."—Minneapolis Tribune.

TO BE ARRAIGNED APRIL 9TH ON A MURDER CHARGE

SHEPHERD'S ATTORNEY WILL MAKE A MOTION TO QUASH THE INDICTMENT

WILL ALSO CONTINUE FIGHT TO RELEASE SHEPHERD BY HABEAS CORPUS

(By United Press)

Chicago, April 2. — William D. Shepherd suffered a setback today when Judge Jacob Hopkins denied a second appeal for freedom on bail pending trial on the charge of murdering Billy McClintock.

Shepherd will be arraigned on April 9th on the indictment charging him with the murder of his millionaire ward.

William Scott Stewart, chief defense attorney announced he would make a motion to quash the indictment. Stewart also said he would continue his fight to release Shepherd on a writ of habeas corpus.

"The judges of the criminal court have concurrent jurisdiction and I will go from court to court until I can get a judge to give us a hearing," he said.

The court's decision in refusing to free Shepherd on bail followed a bitter debate between Stewart and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Stewart presented numerous affidavits by persons who declared they would not believe certain state's witnesses under oath. Crowe protested that these affidavits were incompetent and did not have any bearing on the guilt or innocence of Shepherd.

Judge Hopkins ruled that Crowe was right and for the second time refused to allow Shepherd his freedom. As a result he will return to his cell in the county jail until his trial is started or unless his attorneys win in the future attempts to gain his freedom.

Shepherd appeared downcast at his second defeat. He shook his head sadly when Judge Hopkins declared he found nothing in the affidavit signed by Stewart to cause a change of opinion.

Church Needs Preachers Who Eliminate Selves From Sermons, Says Bishop

Los Angeles, April 2.—The need of the church today is for more preachers who will eliminate themselves from their discourses and put Christ into their sermons, declared Dr. Edwin Hughes, bishop of the Chicago area of the Methodist Episcopal church in an address here yesterday before delegates to the Pacific coast theological conference.

"Ministers may sometimes mistake the effects of a cup of coffee for the power of the holy spirit, and it is possible for a highly emotionalized or comatose congregation to be deceived thereby," the speaker continued.

"I feel that we are safe in saying that many of the sermons that pass for deep preaching are merely dense, muddy, stupid verbal whirlpools of confusion."—Minneapolis Tribune.

The other grains also suffered losses.

Reports of heavy rain in the southwest, indicating a good crop, induced heavy liquidation today.

U. S. URGED TO CONCENTRATE ON BIG BOOTLEGGERS

SAYS DRY LAW IS NOT PROPERLY ENFORCED ON THE COAST

Washington, April 2.—Prohibition is not being properly enforced on the Atlantic seaboard because of inadequate co-operation between federal enforcement agencies, political influences, laxity of federal attorneys and a failure to give more attention to the big bootleggers, Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, yesterday told the senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau.

By crowding court dockets with cases against the "pint" bootleggers and truck drivers, enforcement officials, declared Mrs. Willebrandt, who has charge of prohibition cases in the department of justice, are not striking at their source of supply. To do this, she asserted, there must be more concentration on the big botlegger operators.

Political influences are a serious obstacle to enforcement, Mrs. Willebrandt said, mentioning in this connection particularly the state of New Jersey, and she indorsed a step that would assist in eliminating these by the placing of prohibition agents under the civil service.

Testifying in regard to federal attorney appointments, the witness said she had protested against the appointment of a "man by the name of Littleton" as special assistant to the attorney general to try prohibition cases in western Pennsylvania. He was appointed, she testified, at the request of Secretary Mellon," to prosecute certain "bribery" cases, and after one case had been tried and lost, he had moved that the others be nolle prossed. As reported to her, she said, the court had refused to do this on the ground that the cases had not been "properly presented."—Minneapolis Tribune.

TO BE ARRAIGNED APRIL 9TH ON A MURDER CHARGE

SHEPHERD'S ATTORNEY WILL MAKE A MOTION TO QUASH THE INDICTMENT

WILL ALSO CONTINUE FIGHT TO RELEASE SHEPHERD BY HABEAS CORPUS

(By United Press)

Chicago, April 2. — William D. Shepherd suffered a setback today when Judge Jacob Hopkins denied a second appeal for freedom on bail pending trial on the charge of murdering Billy McClintock.

Shepherd will be arraigned on April 9th on the indictment charging him with the murder of his millionaire ward.

William Scott Stewart, chief defense attorney announced he would make a motion to quash the indictment. Stewart also said he would continue his fight to release Shepherd on a writ of habeas corpus.

"The judges of the criminal court have concurrent jurisdiction and I will go from court to court until I can get a judge to give us a hearing," he said.

The court's decision in refusing to free Shepherd on bail followed a bitter debate between Stewart and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

Stewart presented numerous affidavits by persons who declared they would not believe certain state's witnesses under oath. Crowe protested that these affidavits were incompetent and did not have any bearing on the guilt or innocence of Shepherd.

Judge Hopkins ruled that Crowe was right and for the second time refused to allow Shepherd his freedom. As a result he will return to his cell in the county jail until his trial is started or unless his attorneys win in the future attempts to gain his freedom.

Shepherd appeared downcast at his second defeat. He shook his head sadly when Judge Hopkins declared he found nothing in the affidavit signed by Stewart to cause a change of opinion.

Church Needs Preachers Who Eliminate Selves From Sermons, Says Bishop

Los Angeles, April 2.—The need of the church today is for more preachers who will eliminate themselves from their discourses and put Christ into their sermons, declared Dr. Edwin Hughes, bishop of the Chicago area of the Methodist Episcopal church in an address here yesterday before delegates to the Pacific coast theological conference.

"Ministers may sometimes mistake the effects of a cup of coffee for the power of the holy spirit, and it is possible for a highly emotionalized or comatose congregation to be deceived thereby," the speaker continued.

"I feel that we are safe in saying that many of the sermons that pass for deep preaching are merely dense, muddy, stupid verbal whirlpools of confusion."—Minneapolis Tribune.

A Business Opportunity

There is no reason why Midland, on lake Mille Lacs, can not be one of the most popular amusement places in the Northwest, because it has the location. Situated on two of the most popular trails in the state, also the trail to the iron range near by.

Now we are going to try and make it thus popular, different parties are putting in the following amusements: a water toboggan slide costing $800.00; a large bath house, with a large porch in addition, to serve as a chicken shack; light grocery; confectionery, etc.

A first class camp ground with tents to rent will be another feature, and also boats and canoes.

We have others interested also and we want still more who are willing to put in some amusement or carnival stunt.

The More the Merrier

The pavilion will be enlarged to take care of the crowds and dances will be held three nights weekly.
There will also be a large free picnic ground.

A Business Opportunity

There is no reason why Midland, on lake Mille Lacs, can not be one of the most popular amusement places in the Northwest, because it has the location. Situated on two of the most popular trails in the state, also the trail to the iron range near by.

Now we are going to try and make it thus popular, different parties are putting in the following amusements: a water toboggan slide costing $800.00; a large bath house, with a large porch in addition, to serve as a chicken shack; light grocery; confectionery, etc.

A first class camp ground with tents to rent will be another feature, and also boats and canoes.

We have others interested also and we want still more who are willing to put in some amusement or carnival stunt.

The More the Merrier

The pavilion will be enlarged to take care of the crowds and dances will be held three nights weekly.
There will also be a large free picnic ground.

Our Ambition

will be to run a place where tourists and the people from the towns all around us can come at all times and enjoy

CALL 74—WANT ADS

For a New High School

BY THE CITIZENS COMMITTEE

The citizens committee is composed of representations of various civic organizations who believe that the school board is right in asking that the voters vote bonds for $350,000 to erect a new high school. Their object is to bring the facts of the situation to the voters.

Will Taxes Increase if a New High School is Built?

A most careful and conservative analysis of the amount of taxes that would be required to finance a new High School building has been made and it is believed that under no possible circumstances will it be necessary to increase the present school tax rate more than eight mills to provide for the retirement of the serial maturities of the proposed bond issue and also to cover interest. If the same amounts are received from the State as are now being received, and with the tendency of the state to continue aid to cities situated as is Brainerd, it is believed that a new High School can be built and operated with still a surplus so that it probably will not be necessary to levy only about half of the additional eight mills.

But, assuming that an additional eight mill tax be necessary in some years, even then, TAXES, INCLUDING THOSE FOR THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING, SHOULD NOT BE HIGHER THAN THEY WERE LAST YEAR. For, last year our taxes were 100 mills; this year 99 mills; add the 8 mills and you have 98 mills WHICH IS LESS THAN WAS PAID LAST YEAR. And with the strong probability of this rate being reduced, the outlook is certainly not very alarming in the way of a large tax increase to provide a new High School which is so much needed.

Will Your Send Your Children to the Basement Rooms?

Unless the building program of the board of education is equal to the need, many children must go to the basement rooms for study. Those opposed to the new high school program are advocating an eight room addition to the Washington building.

There are now six basement rooms in use as school rooms on the south side, which should be vacated, two at the Harrison, one at the Lincoln and three at the Washington buildings, which are, in the last named building used by the normal training, the chemical laboratory and manual training classes.

If eight rooms are built and the basement rooms are vacated, it will leave but two additional rooms for the high school which is now jammed beyond the place where the best work can be done.

Is Brainerd so poor that she cannot give her children anything but basement rooms? Must she deny the children the facilities necessary for a good education? And, it should be remembered that the voters said last spring that they wanted a new high school, and did not want merely an addition to the Washington building. Why is this question injected into the election? That was once settled.

Our educational system is the basis of our republic—let us have proper buildings to house our students. The school board says it can only be done by a much larger plant.

Let us take the children out of the basement. LET'S BUILD THE HIGH SCHOOL NOW!

Another Word About the Cost of the Proposed New High School

The state department of education keeps a careful record of the cost of all school building projects. From this record it is shown that in 1924 Waseca, Minn., built a high school building to accomodate one thousand scholars. It also includes an auditorium seating 800. It is fireproof and has every modern appliance. The total cost is given as $375,201. Members of the local board of education visited this building and call it a model school.

This should be some guide as to the cost of a school for Brainerd, as the same architect that built the Waseca building is being considered for Brainerd.

WHY THESE OUTLANDISH FIGURES ABOUT THE COST OF THE HIGH SCHOOL?

One leading citizen of Brainerd was heard to remark that the high school would cost $75,000. Did he really mean it? Does he think our school board is a set of incompetents? Do they conduct their own businesses on that plan? Why try to influence opposition by such statements? Let us confine this discussion to facts as nearly as they can be ascertained.

SHOULD THE BONDS FAIL, WHAT WOULD BE THE RESULT?

This question was asked by a professional man who pays heavy taxes. He has no children to put through the high school. His opinion was, that should the bond issue fail to carry, that it is probable that the school board would not come to an agreement and that the schools would be much worse crowded before a remedy was had than they now are.

He said that several years of this super-crowding that in his opinion another reaction would set in and a heavy bond issue would be voted which would be really burdensome. He said that we need everything the school board has planned, and that under the wise guidance of the present school board it would be cheaper in the end to build the school now and let us give our young people the best education we can. His words are worthy of thought. WHY NOT BUILD NOW?

About a New High School

Mr. Cobb's article showed our school population decreasing.

Assuming the new school was built he admits there are only 200 pupils available for the Washington school where there are at present about 600.

His estimates on the state aids are perhaps fair enough but actual receipts are better.

Here they are in comparison for last year:

	Actual receipts	Cobb's Estimates
Gross earnings law	$28,455.06	$30,000.00
Supplemental aid	7,184.00	12,000.00
State appropriation	9,138.80	12,000.00
Special classes	3,810.54	5,000.00
Tuition	3,784.42	4,500.00
	$52,292.82	$63,500.00

Do we want to put $350,000 into a High School and pay $500,000 interest on same before the bonds are retired? This is what will happen as the bonds are now arranged.

Get your pencil to work and do a little calculating on the subject. Supposing we are paying $100,000 in 20 years and renew $250,000 for another 20, what are the results? Figure it out for yourself, Mr. Reader.

FURTHERMORE, LET NO ONE DELUDE HIMSELF INTO THINKING THAT THE FINISHED PROPOSITION WILL AMOUNT TO NO MORE THAN IS AT PRESENT RECOMMENDED.

I should say by the time the job is completed our levy will be about 26 mills above our present rate.

Now, if these are your wants, you are the jurors.

For the information of those who read the article referring to architects in the Dispatch yesterday will say that, as a Board member, no architect has been employed and, consequently, no figures of possible cost submitted.

The eight architects referred to were simply a list from whom the Board expected to choose the one wanted.

Respectfully yours,
FRED DREXLER.

WHAT ARE ETHICS WORTH?

UNDER the heading, "What are Ethics Worth?" the April number of "The Rotarian carries a very thought-provoking editorial.

So far as we know, says the Rotarian, nobody has yet attempted to express the answer in figures. In fact a satisfactory answer could not be secured in that way, however—

If public opinion were always ethical, we could save a fair amount of legislation. There are upwards of two million laws, for example, on the statute books of the various commonwealths of the United States, and something like 100,000 a year are being added. Now, law is but the precipitate of public opinion, and if we could substitute ethics for law we could render much legislation unnecessary with consequent saving to the public purse.

Again, if public opinion were ethical, we could prevent a good deal of litigation. Suits in civil court are often expensive out of all proportion in satisfaction secured by either party. Many of them could be avoided if public sentiment were so inclined.

Then, if ethics ruled, the world would be saved a considerable amount by the decrease of crime, particularly in forms where fraud and violence are responsible. Our total bill for such matters is not a light one.

Also, an ethical public opinion would mean less wars, and a consequent saving of millions of lives; billions in money; and the penalizing of posterity for the faults of its ancestors.

This list might be continued indefinitely, and we have no imagination sufficient to grasp the results. But these few points will serve to show that from the financial standpoint alone ethics would pay. We hear a good deal about the alleged degeneracy of Western civilization. Much of this is not true and much more can be accounted for by the fact that the situation is no worse than in former times—only the methods of examining it have improved with the times. Increased powers of communication have given us a flood of information—a good deal of which is worthless. But out of all the admixture of fact and fancy enough truth is being salvaged so that we come closer to intelligent judgments. Consequently blind partisanship is not so popular, not so secure. Truth will be served eventually, as truth has always been served. The application of scientific methods of thought, the correlation of established facts, accelerates a process that is inevitable if humanity is to succeed—or even to exist.

What are ethics worth?

AMERICAN LEGION BOOSTS NEW HIGH SCHOOL

THE stand taken by the Carl Sydney Hanson Post of the American Legion on the proposed high school bond issue is a commendable one and they are to be congratulated on encouraging better educational facilities for the growing generation.

In a letter sent to all members they rightly say, "This is a problem worthy of every consideration and one which the American Legion must back. Our schools are a very important institution and when once the opportunity for obtaining them is passed, it is a very difficult matter to bring the cause back to prominence." In urging a favorable vote next Tuesday they say, "Let us get behind this issue with both shoulders to the wheel and give it a good send-off."

FIGURE out how much tax you have paid on your auto in every way in the last seven years. Then consider whether you would take that amount in cash and have all the good roads dug up and the old muddy ones stuck back in their place? If you would really make the trade, then you are privileged to try to keep down auto taxes. And if you would, you are only one out of a thousand, so you are not entitled to force your plan onto a progressive American majority, says the Carlton Vidette.

THE Trommald Times effusively remarks that Dan Mileusnich is Trommald's wonderful calcimine artist. A glance at his workmanship, readily stamps him as a real artist in his line. As far as we are acquainted with this gentle art, used often, too, in political ways, it means putting on an even coat with no cross-hatched lines and taking especial care that the whitewash hits the spot intended and not an unoffending floor.

GOOD news seems to travel slowly in Central Minnesota. The Little Falls Transcript says the St. Cloud Daily Times is about two months late in announcing to the world that the Blanchard Rapids dam began sending its full load of electric power northward to the Cuyuna and Mesaba iron ranges. The Transcript also objects to having the Blanchard Rapids dam six miles south of Little Falls annexed as a St. Cloud industry.

WE figure if the open water duck blinds bill becomes a law, a duck will not have a leg to stand on, no place to feed, no place to alight, no place to rest. Our idea that it will produce wanton slaughter of ducks is concurred in by such a high authority as Jay F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner.

"KING of Utah Framing Tax Reduction Bill," says a flaming headline in a newspaper. Sounds like a return to the monarchy, when it is but Senator King enunciating a plan to reduce taxes $500,000,000.

THE state reorganization bill is being so amended that Governor Christianson will hardly be able to recognize the measure. Its so-called rehabilitated form may prove a "debilitated" one.

THE Northern News is to be consolidated with the Baudette Region. Economic necessity, it is said, and a desire to cut down the overhead, caused the consolidation.

ARE men endowed with more sympathy than women? Dorothy Ellingston, charged with killing her mother, wished a jury composed entirely of men.

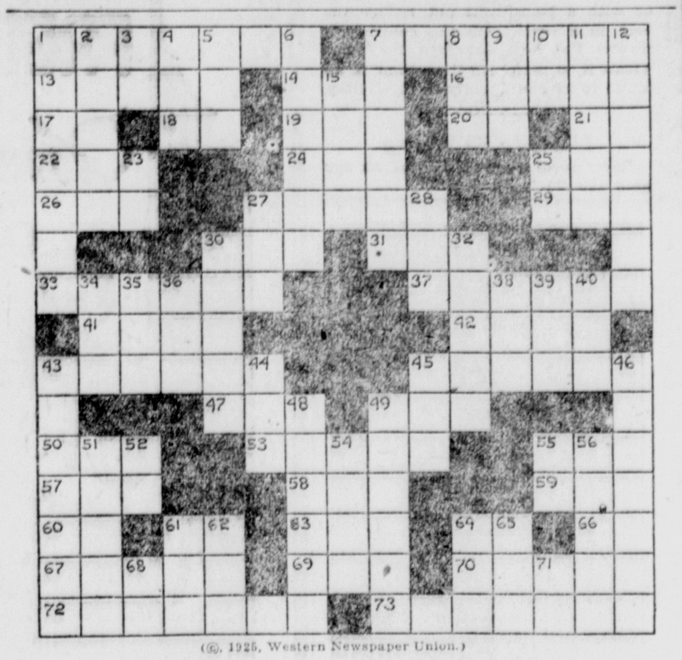

ARE styles of ladies designed to appeal to women or men? Of course, the final appeal is made to Pa to pay the bill.

ALL Fools' Day yesterday. It was not being observed as much as usual, probably because there are less fools.

TODAY'S DISPATCH CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

WHAT ARE ETHICS WORTH?

UNDER the heading, "What are Ethics Worth?" the April number of "The Rotarian carries a very thought-provoking editorial.

So far as we know, says the Rotarian, nobody has yet attempted to express the answer in figures. In fact a satisfactory answer could not be secured in that way, however—

If public opinion were always ethical, we could save a fair amount of legislation. There are upwards of two million laws, for example, on the statute books of the various commonwealths of the United States, and something like 100,000 a year are being added. Now, law is but the precipitate of public opinion, and if we could substitute ethics for law we could render much legislation unnecessary with consequent saving to the public purse.

Again, if public opinion were ethical, we could prevent a good deal of litigation. Suits in civil court are often expensive out of all proportion in satisfaction secured by either party. Many of them could be avoided if public sentiment were so inclined.

Then, if ethics ruled, the world would be saved a considerable amount by the decrease of crime, particularly in forms where fraud and violence are responsible. Our total bill for such matters is not a light one.

Also, an ethical public opinion would mean less wars, and a consequent saving of millions of lives; billions in money; and the penalizing of posterity for the faults of its ancestors.

This list might be continued indefinitely, and we have no imagination sufficient to grasp the results. But these few points will serve to show that from the financial standpoint alone ethics would pay. We hear a good deal about the alleged degeneracy of Western civilization. Much of this is not true and much more can be accounted for by the fact that the situation is no worse than in former times—only the methods of examining it have improved with the times. Increased powers of communication have given us a flood of information—a good deal of which is worthless. But out of all the admixture of fact and fancy enough truth is being salvaged so that we come closer to intelligent judgments. Consequently blind partisanship is not so popular, not so secure. Truth will be served eventually, as truth has always been served. The application of scientific methods of thought, the correlation of established facts, accelerates a process that is inevitable if humanity is to succeed—or even to exist.

What are ethics worth?

AMERICAN LEGION BOOSTS NEW HIGH SCHOOL

THE stand taken by the Carl Sydney Hanson Post of the American Legion on the proposed high school bond issue is a commendable one and they are to be congratulated on encouraging better educational facilities for the growing generation.

In a letter sent to all members they rightly say, "This is a problem worthy of every consideration and one which the American Legion must back. Our schools are a very important institution and when once the opportunity for obtaining them is passed, it is a very difficult matter to bring the cause back to prominence." In urging a favorable vote next Tuesday they say, "Let us get behind this issue with both shoulders to the wheel and give it a good send-off."

FIGURE out how much tax you have paid on your auto in every way in the last seven years. Then consider whether you would take that amount in cash and have all the good roads dug up and the old muddy ones stuck back in their place? If you would really make the trade, then you are privileged to try to keep down auto taxes. And if you would, you are only one out of a thousand, so you are not entitled to force your plan onto a progressive American majority, says the Carlton Vidette.

THE Trommald Times effusively remarks that Dan Mileusnich is Trommald's wonderful calcimine artist. A glance at his workmanship, readily stamps him as a real artist in his line. As far as we are acquainted with this gentle art, used often, too, in political ways, it means putting on an even coat with no cross-hatched lines and taking especial care that the whitewash hits the spot intended and not an unoffending floor.

GOOD news seems to travel slowly in Central Minnesota. The Little Falls Transcript says the St. Cloud Daily Times is about two months late in announcing to the world that the Blanchard Rapids dam began sending its full load of electric power northward to the Cuyuna and Mesaba iron ranges. The Transcript also objects to having the Blanchard Rapids dam six miles south of Little Falls annexed as a St. Cloud industry.

WE figure if the open water duck blinds bill becomes a law, a duck will not have a leg to stand on, no place to feed, no place to alight, no place to rest. Our idea that it will produce wanton slaughter of ducks is concurred in by such a high authority as Jay F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner.

"KING of Utah Framing Tax Reduction Bill," says a flaming headline in a newspaper. Sounds like a return to the monarchy, when it is but Senator King enunciating a plan to reduce taxes $500,000,000.

THE state reorganization bill is being so amended that Governor Christianson will hardly be able to recognize the measure. Its so-called rehabilitated form may prove a "debilitated" one.

THE Northern News is to be consolidated with the Baudette Region. Economic necessity, it is said, and a desire to cut down the overhead, caused the consolidation.

ARE styles of ladies designed to appeal to women or men? Of course, the final appeal is made to Pa to pay the bill.

ALL Fools' Day yesterday. It was not being observed as much as usual, probably because there are less fools.

TODAY'S DISPATCH CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

Do Banks Lend Depositors Their Own Money?

THERE has been some unthinking criticism of banks for receiving money on deposit and then lending it back to them at interest. Critics do not stop to think how unfair it would be for anyone to pay a bank for the privilege of using his own money. What actually happens is that the bank pays for the use of money belonging to someone else.

If you will compare the capital and surplus of all the banks in town with their loans and discounts you will see that borrowers are using, for the purposes of making profit and giving employment, sums many times in excess of total banking capital. Plainly, there isn't enough banking capital anywhere to keep the merchants, manufacturers and farmers supplied with necessary credit.

It is clear, too, that owners of a bank's capital would not need to create an expensive organization in order to get their money at work earning more for them. They would lend the money direct if the community didn't need banks.

It is absolutely essential that the working capital of the community be brought together in a community fund with which to keep the wheels of production and industry moving. No other reservoir exists for this purpose.

Borrowers do not borrow their own money. They borrow because they have not enough of their own to meet the needs and opportunities of the moment. If they haven't enough of their own, they must use money belonging to someone else.

A responsible borrower can, for short periods, borrow several times the amount of his average bank balances. The money the bank lends him belongs to other depositors, although the bank, meanwhile, is responsible for the return of depositors' money to them on demand.

It is the delicate duty of bank management to keep the funds of the community—the bank deposits—working productively. It requires skill and caution to maintain a steady flow of capital; and the interest charged upon loans must cover all operating expenses, the interest paid on time deposits, and then produce a fair rate of earnings on the bank's capital.

Banking for the People

Do Banks Lend Depositors Their Own Money?

THERE has been some unthinking criticism of banks for receiving people's money on deposit and then lending it back to them at interest. Critics do not stop to think how absurd it would be for anyone to pay a bank the privilege of using his own money. What actually happens is that the bank pays for the use of money belonging to someone else.

If you will compare the capital and surplus of all the banks in town with their loans and discounts you will see that borrowers are using, for the purposes of making profit and giving employment, sums many times in excess of total banking capital. Plainly, there isn't enough banking capital anywhere to keep the merchants, manufacturers and farmers supplied with necessary credit.

It is clear, too, that owners of a bank's capital would not need to create an expensive organization in order to get their money at work earning more for them. They would lend the money direct if the community didn't need banks.

It is absolutely essential that the working capital of the community be brought together in a community fund with which to keep the wheels of production and industry moving. No other reservoir exists for this purpose.

Borrowers do not borrow their own money. They borrow because they have not enough of their own to meet the needs and opportunities of the moment. If they haven't enough of their own, they must use money belonging to someone else.

A responsible borrower can, for short periods, borrow several times the amount of his average bank balances. The money the bank lends him belongs to other depositors, although the bank, meanwhile, is responsible for the return of depositors' money to them on demand.

It is the delicate duty of bank management to keep the funds of the community—the bank deposits—working productively. It requires skill and caution to maintain a steady flow of capital; and the interest charged upon loans must cover all operating expenses, the interest paid on time deposits, and then produce a fair rate of earnings on the bank's capital.

ROTARIANS HEAR SCHOOL MATTERS

ALLUDE TO ROTARY SURVEY

An Inadequate School, it is Stated, May Result in HalfTime Sessions

At the Rotary meeting Tuesday, President W. H. Gemmell presided and with high school matters under discussion, the addresses were so interesting and questions so varied that the session was extended close to 2 o'clock.

Three past presidents urged better attendance at luncheons so that President Gemmell's term will close with 100 per cent meetings throughout April. The past presidents speaking were H. F. Michael, Walter F. Wieland and Dr. R. A. Beise.

The "On to Hibbing" district conference committee, Walter F. Wieland chairman, reported 15 having signed up.

Past President Michael referred to the coming important election to pass on issuing $350,000 bonds for a new high school and was followed by three speakers, Supt. W. C. Cobb, Mrs. J. A. Thabes and Geo. D. LaBar.

Mrs. Thabes, member of the school board, gave a very thoughtful address, speaking as a mother, having had a son graduate from the high school, of having herself attended high school and graduated here, and of having a daughter who will eventually attend high school.

An inadequate school, she said, will result in half-time sessions so that all pupils may get tuition and it will take longer to graduate high school classes. She described the present crowded condition of school rooms, nine basement rooms being in use in different school buildings. She urged adding opportunity rooms to the new high school building, as recommended by the state department.

The parochial school said Mrs. Thabes, would have probably 36 to enter in next year's high school classes.

Supt. Cobb spoke of the school survey made by the Rotary club. The new high school is a problem the board had considered for a long period. Eight or nine architects had given the subject thought.

Mr. LaBar, president of the board of education, mentioned his 16 years of service on the board, evidencing his interest in school matters. He referred to the Rotary survey of the high school and general school situation in Brainerd and the analysis following.

"Are you still interested in a high school or has your interest lagged?" Mr. LaBar asked the Rotarians.

He referred to addressing the Rotarians in April, 1922, and that the prediction regarding the probable tax rate, as made then, met the conditions of today. It is an indisputable fact that we must have more room, said Mr. LaBar.

In referring to the bond issue Mr. LaBar covered the ground of the address recently given before the Whittier parent-teachers' association. The bond retirement, the interest charges, the reduction of the present small bond issue still unpaid, was so figured out that taxation would not be oppressive.

It is believed that the on or before privilege on $50,000 after five years and $50,000 after ten years will be of a decided advantage in case a surplus of funds should exist, or if conditions should become such that additional bonds could be comfortably retired.

Should it not be possible to retire any of the bonds with the on or before privilege before maturity, there would remain $250,000 to be refunded in 1940. The present inventory of the school property is around $450,000 and with new property added by virtue of the new bond issue of $350,000 a total of $800,000 is gained. Against this there would then be the $250,000 of bonds.

With the assistance of present state aid, the present tax rate of 40½ mills for maintenance, together with the local one mill tax should be ample to not only operate our present schools, but to also operate a new high school.

Therefore the added cost, or rather added taxes, would be represented by the interest on the bonds and a sinking fund to retire the new issue of bonds as well as the present small amount of outstanding bonds and should not exceed approximately 8 mills, so that our entire school tax rate would stay safely within a total of fifty mills, with a probability of materially reducing this rate.

PARENTS BLAMED FOR DELINQUENCY INCREASE IN CITY

St. Paul, April 2.—Juvenile delinquency is rampant in St. Paul.

To a degree, at least, parents can blame themselves.

This is the opinion of Judge Grier M. Orr, district court, who Tuesday afternoon addressed members of the St. Paul Association of Office Men at the Athletic club.

Judge Orr derided the lack of mutual trust and confidence existing between father and son and between mother and daughter today.

Upwards of 600 unmarried mothers came to the attention of his court last year, Judge Orr said.

"The real tragedies occur later in the boy's and in the girl's life," he said. "They are married without the slightest notion of what they are entering on, and inevitably there occurs another divorce affair."

TALL CEDARS DANCING PARTY

To be Held in Crosby Armory on Friday Evening, April 3

RANGE COMMITTEE BUSY

Hedstrom Orchestra Plays, Elaborate Refreshments to be Served

Everything is ready for the big Tall Cedar dancing party tomorrow, Friday evening, in the Crosby armory, according to the report of the range committee in charge of the event, and it is expected that everyone eligible will be in attendance.

The range committee has gone to a great deal of work to make this party an outstanding feature in the spring social season, and contends that it will be the biggest thing of its kind that has been staged in the county.

Hedstrom's popular orchestra was engaged on the condition that it render only the very latest dance numbers, and it has agreed to do this in its usual peppy manner. Dancing will start at 9 o'clock and continue until 1 o'clock if the dancers desire. Elaborate refreshments will be served during the evening, and between dances the committee promises some novel and amusing stunts.

The range members of Lake Region Forest No. 58 intend to outdo themselves in entertaining their brothers from Brainerd. In addition to Tall Cedars and their families, Brainerd Masons and their ladies, and members of the Eastern Star are invited, but it is pointed out that this is a private dancing party, staged largely through the courtesy of the range Cedars, and for this reason none except members of the order, Masons with their ladies, and Eastern Stars will be admitted. This will be a disappointment to many who are not affiliated with any of the above orders, but it is made necessary by the limitations that must be placed upon the courtesies extended by the range Cedars. Even with these limitations it is expected that between 300 and 400 will be in attendance, as Masons and Eastern Stars from Aitkin have also been invited. All Tall Cedars are expected to wear their pyramids.

Arrangements have been made for a special large parking space for the automobiles from Brainerd, with several officers in charge to insure the safety of the visiting cars. This thoughtfulness on the part of the committee will be greatly appreciated, and taken advantage of by all who attend.

It is expected that there will be many desiring to make the trip who have no means of transportation, and will be thrown upon the mercy of their more fortunate friends. For this reason, all who have extra room in their cars and can take others, are asked to be at the Iron Exchange building at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, to take any who have no means of making the trip.

A big time, one long to be remembered, is the promise of the range Cedars, who urge all that are eligible from Brainerd to be present, rain or shine, and nothing of such small moment as a rain has ever deterred a Tall Cedar from participating in a good time.

This is the first of a series of events on the Tall Cedar calendar for this season, both for Brainerd and the range. The next one will be a big ceremonial at Crosby-Ironton, scheduled for the latter part of this month. Others are to follow in rapid succession. It will be a lively year in Cedar circles.

An Inadequate School, it is Stated, May Result in HalfTime Sessions

Past President Michael referred to the coming important election to pass on issuing $350,000 bonds for a new high school and was followed by three speakers, Supt. W. C. Cobb, Mrs. J. A. Thabes and Geo. D. LaBar.

Mrs. Thabes, member of the school board, gave a very thoughtful address, speaking as a mother, having had a son graduate from the high school, of having herself attended high school and graduated here, and of having a daughter who will eventually attend high school.

An inadequate school, she said, will result in half-time sessions so that all pupils may get tuition and it will take longer to graduate high school classes. Supt. Cobb spoke of the school survey made by the Rotary club. The new high school is a problem the board had considered for a long period. Eight or nine architects had given the subject thought.

Mr. LaBar, president of the board of education, mentioned his 16 years of service on the board, evidencing his interest in school matters. He referred to the Rotary survey of the high school and general school situation in Brainerd and the analysis following.

"Are you still interested in a high school or has your interest lagged?" Mr. LaBar asked the Rotarians.

He referred to addressing the Rotarians in April, 1922, and that the prediction regarding the probable tax rate, as made then, met the conditions of today. It is an indisputable fact that we must have more room, said Mr. LaBar.

In referring to the bond issue Mr. LaBar covered the ground of the address recently given before the Whittier parent-teachers' association. Against this there would then be the $250,000 of bonds.

With the assistance of present state aid, the present tax rate of 40½ mills for maintenance, together with the local one mill tax should be ample to not only operate our present schools, but to also operate a new high school.

Therefore the added cost, or rather added taxes, would be represented by the interest on the bonds and a sinking fund to retire the new issue of bonds as well as the present small amount of outstanding bonds and should not exceed approximately 8 mills, so that our entire school tax rate would stay safely within a total of fifty mills, with a probability of materially reducing this rate.

PARENTS BLAMED FOR DELINQUENCY INCREASE IN CITY

St. Paul, April 2.—Juvenile delinquency is rampant in St. Paul.

To a degree, at least, parents can blame themselves.

This is the opinion of Judge Grier M. Orr, district court, who Tuesday afternoon addressed members of the St. Paul Association of Office Men at the Athletic club.

Judge Orr derided the lack of mutual trust and confidence existing between father and son and between mother and daughter today.

Upwards of 600 unmarried mothers came to the attention of his court last year, Judge Orr said.

"The real tragedies occur later in the boy's and in the girl's life," he said. "They are married without the slightest notion of what they are entering on, and inevitably there occurs another divorce affair."

The Kermess will be held at the Elks home, third floor of the Citizens State bank building, on five nights, April 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18. It will be put on just as staged by Minneapolis lodge of Elks, the only difference being a reduction in size of exhibits in order to fit the space accorded by the Elks quarters here.

Window cards are now being placed in all towns in Brainerd lodge jurisdiction.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock W. A. Kelly of Minneapolis will confer with the Elks workers. At the lodge session following there will be installation of officers, reports, etc. Weather and roads are good and a large attendance from the range and other sections is anticipated.

TALL CEDARS DANCING PARTY

To be Held in Crosby Armory on Friday Evening, April 3

RANGE COMMITTEE BUSY

Hedstrom Orchestra Plays, Elaborate Refreshments to be Served

Everything is ready for the big Tall Cedar dancing party tomorrow, Friday evening, in the Crosby armory, according to the report of the range committee in charge of the event, and it is expected that everyone eligible will be in attendance.

The range committee has gone to a great deal of work to make this party an outstanding feature in the spring social season, and contends that it will be the biggest thing of its kind that has been staged in the county.

Hedstrom's popular orchestra was engaged on the condition that it render only the very latest dance numbers, and it has agreed to do this in its usual peppy manner. Dancing will start at 9 o'clock and continue until 1 o'clock if the dancers desire. Elaborate refreshments will be served during the evening, and between dances the committee promises some novel and amusing stunts.

The range members of Lake Region Forest No. 58 intend to outdo themselves in entertaining their brothers from Brainerd. In addition to Tall Cedars and their families, Brainerd Masons and their ladies, and members of the Eastern Star are invited, but it is pointed out that this is a private dancing party, staged largely through the courtesy of the range Cedars, and for this reason none except members of the order, Masons with their ladies, and Eastern Stars will be admitted. This will be a disappointment to many who are not affiliated with any of the above orders, but it is made necessary by the limitations that must be placed upon the courtesies extended by the range Cedars. Even with these limitations it is expected that between 300 and 400 will be in attendance, as Masons and Eastern Stars from Aitkin have also been invited. All Tall Cedars are expected to wear their pyramids.

Arrangements have been made for a special large parking space for the automobiles from Brainerd, with several officers in charge to insure the safety of the visiting cars. This thoughtfulness on the part of the committee will be greatly appreciated, and taken advantage of by all who attend.

It is expected that there will be many desiring to make the trip who have no means of transportation, and will be thrown upon the mercy of their more fortunate friends. For this reason, all who have extra room in their cars and can take others, are asked to be at the Iron Exchange building at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, to take any who have no means of making the trip.

A big time, one long to be remembered, is the promise of the range Cedars, who urge all that are eligible from Brainerd to be present, rain or shine, and nothing of such small moment as a rain has ever deterred a Tall Cedar from participating in a good time.

This is the first of a series of events on the Tall Cedar calendar for this season, both for Brainerd and the range. The next one will be a big ceremonial at Crosby-Ironton, scheduled for the latter part of this month. Others are to follow in rapid succession. It will be a lively year in Cedar circles.

BASEMENT ROOMS FOR MANY PUPILS

Nine So Used in Various School Buildings, Says Mrs. J. A. Thabes

ADDRESSED LIONS CLUB

George D. LaBar Presents Facts Regarding Bond Issue and Building

Nine basement rooms are used throughout the various school buildings of the city for housing school children because of the crowded condition of the other rooms, Mrs. J. A. Thabes told the Lions club at its weekly luncheon on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Thabes and George D. LaBar, members of the Brainerd board of education, were invited to present existing conditions in the schools, together with the board's plans for financing the bond issue, should it carry in the coming election, which they did in a very capable manner.

The speaker stated that she preferred to talk on conditions in the schools from a mother's point of view rather than as a board member, feeling that there was not a parent in the city, especially among those who have visited the schools and are aware of the very crowded rooms, that is not very anxious that this shall be remedied.

The nine rooms in the basements of the buildings that have been pressed into service as school rooms, house enough children to fill a ward building larger than any in Brainerd and are located as follows: Two in the basement of the Lowell school, two in the basement of the Harrison school, one each in the Lincoln and Whittier schools, and three in the Washington. The board is allowed to make use of these rooms only temporarily through the courtesy of the state department of education, but different arrangements must be made soon to conform to the requirements of the department, said the speaker.

As a logical solution to the situation, Mrs. Thabes referred to the new high school building into which the opportunity rooms where underdeveloped children are instructed, could be housed with the high school departments as recommended by the state department. This would relieve congestion in several buildings and the space vacated in the Washington building by removing the high school, would solve the balance of the problem.

The speaker emphasized the fact that it was not necessary to build a large high school building that would meet all requirements for many years to come. In fact most cities are getting away from that plan and are erecting their school buildings in units as they are needed, thus getting away from large bond issues, excessive interest payments and other costs incidental to the upkeep of a large building.

Mr. LaBar did not speak for or against the bond issue which is to come before the voters at Tuesday's election, but only presented facts concerning this bond issue and the new high school building which are of special interest to the voters. He outlined the history of the movement stating that the first step was taken when the board, by a vote of the people, was authorized to build a new high school building. Then a vote was taken to select the site and the next step is about to be taken in voting to finance the project.

The cost of the site, building and equipment, $350,000, is a very moderate one, said the speaker, considering the number of school population and is not as much as many towns much smaller than Brainerd have voted for high school buildings. The amount was arrived at by careful estimates from architects and from other well equipped buildings throughout the country.

Only a fair, reasonable amount will be required for the school site, continued Mr. LaBar, and then by careful planning and administration of the funds, it will be possible to erect a building that will meet the needs of the city for several years.

As to the matter of taxes, the speaker stated that the school district had never been in a better condition to go about building than at present. The 8 mill estimate, which is the maximum additional tax rate for financing the bond issue, was arrived at by calculating the floating of bonds at 5 per cent, although it is possible that the bonds may be placed at 4½ per cent. The retiring of these bonds was explained by a system that will not prove a burden upon the taxpayers.

In the event that a surplus is accumulated, said the speaker, it is very likely that the bonds can be retired much faster than now anticipated, thus reducing interest charges and lowering the tax rate.

The valuation of school property in the city at present, said Mr. LaBar, is inventoried at $475,000. If this is increased by $350,000 thru the erection of a new school building, the total is, from a purely business standpoint, a conservative amount upon which to refund $250,000 of the bonds under the board's present plans.

As to the cost of the bond issue to the individual taxpayer, Mr. LaBar stated that on a property valuation of $500 the taxes will be increased only $1.60, or $3.20 on a valuation of $1,000.

The board of education believes that it is entirely likely that an 8 mill levy will not be necessary and that this amount will be materially reduced, especially in the event that the so-called "Gross Earnings Tax" is received each year as it has been in the past three years.

Three members of the Lions club signified their intention of attending the Boy Scout convention in Minneapolis on next Tuesday, and more may find it possible to be present. It is expected that the delegation will travel together by automobile.

The annual membership campaign, a part of the international association's program, is being staged by the local club. The membership has been divided into two teams, Ben Dunham captaining one, and Joe Krause heading the other. The losing team is to banquet the winners at the end of the campaign in May.

GROSS EARNINGS TAX DIVISION

$33,224.93 Covers This Apportionment and $15,984.06 Supplemental Aid

FIGURES FOR 1924, 1923 GIVEN

City Government Last Year Received About $10,000 Aid

The board of education of the Brainerd school district on Tuesday received $33,224.93 covering its share of the so-called "gross earnings tax" and $15,984.06 supplemental aid from the state department of education, in all $49,208.99.

In 1924 the Brainerd board's share of the gross earnings tax amounted to $28,355.06, and in 1923 it totalled $24,925. It has shown a steady increase since the first year that the gross earnings law went into effect.

In addition to the amount received by the board of education, the city each year received a share of the gross earnings tax, which is not distributed until September. The amount received by the city last year was about $10,000.

These additions to both school and city finances are very valuable ones and highly appreciated by the taxpayers as well as by the departments receiving them. The board of education, because of the gross earnings tax, has been able to retire a number of outstanding bonds and make some much needed improvements and alterations in the local schools.

BUSH SUPERB AS A PITCHER AND HITTER

TAKING A CHANCE TO GET EARLY B. B. COIN

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, April 2.—Prospects for a National League pennant in Chicago this year went up in a cloud of dust at third base recently when the Cubs were playing an exhibition game.

Rabbit Maranville hit the dirt trying for the bag and was carried off the field with a broken leg. The injury will have the immediate effect of keeping a reliable player out of the game for three months and it may have a permanent effect in slowing up a player who is no youngster and who has always relied considerably upon speed for his efficiency.

The Cubs, it might b argued, did not have an outstanding rating as a pennant possibility, but they have little or no chance now. Maranville is no Hornsby or no Frankie Frisch, but his loss to the Cubs will be terrific, because there is no one to take his place.

The loss of one player would not wreck the New York Giants, but it would ruin the hopes of most any other club in the National League, because there is no club that has the wealth of reserve material than can be found on the New York bench.

Major league managers have been flirting with accidents such as wrecked the Cubs ever since it became the vogue to help meet the board bills at the training camps with a long series of exhibition games. Bill Killifer may not be responsible for the condition which resulted in the loss of Maranville, because, with few exceptions, major league managers are but employers and the judgment of the business office is allowed to outrank theirs.

Managers differ in their ideas about the best method of preparing a ball club for a pennant race, but all the training plans seem to be subordinated by the wishes of the club owners to have the training camps cost them as little as possible. It is perfectly logical from a business point of view to save money during the training season, but it seems to be foolish economy to take a 20 to 1 shot on losing one or two valuable players.

and watch the powerful steam locomotives as they plied about the freight and passenger yards beneath him. Incidentally he remembers of the first movies, a blustering train dashing into a station, which was the "spectacle" sensation a quarter century ago.

Seldom does he write a story without having some action centre about a railroad. In "The Fast Express" which ran in the Saturday Evening Post recently under the title of "Crossed Wires," is considered the feature chapterplay of the last five years.

Will Provides Girl Marry in 24 Hours

If you were an attractive athletic young woman—

If your aunt had left you a fortune on condition that you marry within twenty-four hours—

If the provisions of the will would not allow you marry your present fiance—

And if you wanted the cash, but were not keen for the matrimonial proviso, how would you go about getting the sponduliks?

Blanche Ingram, the heroine of "Her Temporary Husband," to be shown at the New Park tonight and Friday, was faced with that problem.

But she got an idea. She married a decrepit old man who had but a few hours to live.

The marriage was performed, but someone else was the happy bridegroom—a plotter had made up to look like the intended husband.

Then complications and more complications before the strange mixup is finally straightened out.

BOSTON SCRIBES SAY HE'S AS FINE AS HE EVER WAS

SAYS BUSH'S WORK MORE IMPRESSIVE THAN URBAN SHOCKER'S

UP THREE TIMES, BUSH RAPS OUT THREE SINGLE HITS

The Dispatch is indebted to Evelyn Mauer Pirie, who sent in the article on Bush.

BY MARTIN J. HALEY
(St. Louis Globe-Democrat Staff Correspondent)

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 26—After witnessing Bullet Joe Bush in action for five innings here today, Boston newspaper men said he looked as good as he ever did, while a member of the old Red Sox combination of years ago. Incidentally, the Hubtown scribes saw Urban Shocker on duty the other day. They say he pitched fine ball, but opined that Bush's performance was easily as impressive.

Certainly Bush did enough to give the most exacting fan plenty to enthuse over. In addition to blanking the Braves for five innings while permitting but four hits, Bush proved one of the biggest punches of the Brownie club. Up three times, the ex-Yankee collected three singles and thus was prominently instrumental in bringing to the Browns their 9 to 4 victory.

Bush Braces in Pinches

The four hits off Bush came in the second and third innings. Three of them were doubles, but each time the Braves threatened Joe braced superbly to prevent scoring.

The first, fourth and fifth innings were "duck soup" for the hero of the many world series, who had to face only nine men over this stretch. Only one of these nine was successful in getting the ball out of the infield.

Bush had fine speed, great control, had his fork ball working in good shape and experimented with his curve to some extent. He surely looks primed for the opening day battle.

Vangilder was too wild to be as effective as Bush. In the four innings he worked, the big Cape Towner gave three passes and allowed six hits and all the runs the Bostons scored.

Off the right-hand Boston hurlers the Browns collected a grand total of fifteen hits for twenty-one total bases. Tobin and Robertson topped the attack, each bagging a triple, a double and a single. In addition, Tobin scored four runs. Gerber was there with two singles, Sisler, Dixon and Vangilder with one apiece.

Browns' Defense Perfect

The Browns' defense was perfect and at times punctuated by great plays, notably by Bennett and Williams, both of whom roamed their fields far and wide. The infield combination, with Robertson at second and Rice at third, worked smoothly. Robbie turned in three putouts and two assists, Rice had one putout and one assist.

Opening the game Tobin singled to center, Robertson died, but Sisler singled to right. Tobin reached third. Trying to pick Sisler off first Genewich uncorked a low throw and Tobin scored when Williams and Bennett walked to jam the aisles, but Severeid grounded out to Marriett.

With one away in the second Gerber and Bush singled and Tobin walked to crowd the runways, after which Genewich made a wild pitch, Gerber scoring.

In the fourth Genewich walked Rice as a starter and Gerber sacrificed Harry in position to score on Bush's second single to center, after which Tobin forced Bush, stole second and romped home on Robertson's double to center.

Graham, on the Boston bill in the sixth, resembled Bush only in the red flannel undershirt he sported. He walked Gerber opening the sixth. Came our heavy hitting pitcher with his third single to center for a perfect day. Tobin's pass plugged the angles for Robertson but he popped to Bancroft and Sisler forced Gerber at the plate. Graham's third pass of the inning, this to Williams, forced Wingard over the plate. Wingard was running for Bush.

Ninth is Big Inning

Tobin's triple together with Robertson's single added the Browns' sixth run in the eighth off Tim McNamara, another right-hander. The ninth was the big session. The Brownies counted their three runs in this frame on singles by Dixon, Gerber and Vangilder, a double by Tobin and Robertson's triple. Strangely enough, the attack was closed by Sisler, who looked over a third strike. It was George's second strikeout in two days.

The Braves scored their first run off Vangilder in the seventh on a scratch hit by Harris, a clean single by Felix and a sacrifice fly by Neis, the ex-Brooklynite. In the eighth a single by Marriott, a pass to Bancroft, a double by Lucas and a single by Harris gave the Braves their other three runs.

Nurmi Travels Fast, But Falls Shy of Mark

Boston, April 2.—Paavo Nurmi, Finnish running star, made the fastest time ever done over a 13-lap indoor track when he covered 1½ miles in 6:47, within eight seconds of his own world's record. Lloyd Hahn and Joie Ray were not able to finish.

Cannefax Wants Divorce

St. Louis, Mo., April 2.—Charging desertion, Robert L. Cannefax, professional billiard player, has sued his wife, Mrs. Annie M. Cannefax, for divorce. He claims she deserted him in 1916.

Munn Wins

Chicago, April 2.—Wayne (Big) Munn, took two straight falls from Joe Mondt, cowboy challenger, here last night. The first fall took 35:55 and the second 17:20.

Physical Body Meets

Chicago, April 2.—More than 1,000 delegates are expected here for the 12th annual convention of the Midwest Society of Physical Education April 9, 10 and 11.

GARB TOO SCANTY IN PICTURE, COED BEAUTY PUNISHED

Evanston, Ill., April 2.—The campus of Northwestern university buzzed with excitement when it became known that a beautiful and popular freshman coed had been barred from a student theatrical performance because she allowed herself to be photographed in a costume described as "too abbreviated."

The girl, Miss Caroline Smith, Cairo, Ill., is the world's champion woman fancy diver, winning the event at the Olympic games in Paris last summer. She is also an accomplished dancer.

Selected for one of the leading parts in a musical comedy, she was photographed by a student for the purpose of advertising.

Old Neighbors

While clearing land for a golf course at Mount Union, Pa., workmen were obliged to remove an old apple tree. When the ax was laid to the trunk they found near the ground a hen and a nest of eggs. Midway up the tree a nest of red field mice was sheltered from the blasts of winter. Near the top a big screech owl had taken up its habitat. The strange neighbors had evidently been living peacefully under the same rooftree.

GIBBONS AND TUNNEY ARE FINALLY MATCHED

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHTS TO TANGLE IN OPEN AIR SHOW JUNE 12TH

JIMMY DeFOREST TO PROMOTE CONTEST AT POLO GROUNDS

New York, April 2—Tom Gibbons and Gene Tunney are matched to meet in the Polo grounds on June 12. Harry Wills, the negro heavyweight chalenger, finds himself back in his familiar place on the shelf for the season and perhaps for the rest of his career.

Following the hopeless hunch that he would get a match with Jack Dempsey, the big colored boy would not consider an offer to meet Gibbons. Indirectly he let it be known that he would listen if any promoter would talk in terms of $300,000, and that put the silencer on all the promoters.

Instead of getting a good shot this summer, Wills now will have to go to the Bartley Maddens and the second raters that he had been using for years. The only match in sight for him now is one with Joe Stoessel, a big former amateur, who will take less than a fortune for the chance.

Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, was given his money, and Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, will get his end when he arrives from Chicago.

Tunney is the American light heavyweight champion, but his title will not be at stake. The two can come in as heavy as they desire. Gibbons announced after he had knocked out Kid Norfolk that he did not care to remain in the cruiser class, and Tunney has taken on so much weight that he does not care about the title.

Wills practically is out in the cold now. Jimmy de Forest, matchmaker for the Polo Grounds Athletic club, said that he was figuring on matching the winner with Paul Berlenbach, the former amateur wrestler, or with Mike McTigue, the world's light heavyweight champion. He said that he had not made any plans to use Wills for any shows during the summer.

Eddie Kane said that Gibbons would finish his training for the bout in New York, and Tunney, who is now working at Hot Springs, will also do his training here.

When it became known that the match was on, several big bets were made. Gibbons is now an 8 to 5 favorite to win.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

Graham, on the Boston bill in the sixth, resembled Bush only in the red flannel undershirt he sported. He walked Gerber opening the sixth. Came our heavy hitting pitcher with his third single to center for a perfect day. Tobin's pass plugged the angles for Robertson but he popped to Bancroft and Sisler forced Gerber at the plate. Graham's third pass of the inning, this to Williams, forced Wingard over the plate. Wingard was running for Bush.

Ninth is Big Inning

Tobin's triple together with Robertson's single added the Browns' sixth run in the eighth off Tim McNamara, another right-hander. The ninth was the big session. The Brownies counted their three runs in this frame on singles by Dixon, Gerber and Vangilder, a double by Tobin and Robertson's triple. Strangely enough, the attack was closed by Sisler, who looked over a third strike. It was George's second strikeout in two days.

The Braves scored their first run off Vangilder in the seventh on a scratch hit by Harris, a clean single by Felix and a sacrifice fly by Neis, the ex-Brooklynite. In the eighth a single by Marriott, a pass to Bancroft, a double by Lucas and a single by Harris gave the Braves their other three runs.

Boston, April 2.—Paavo Nurmi, Finnish running star, made the fastest time ever done over a 13-lap indoor track when he covered 1½ miles in 6:47, within eight seconds of his own world's record. Lloyd Hahn and Joie Ray were not able to finish.

GARB TOO SCANTY IN PICTURE, COED BEAUTY PUNISHED

Evanston, Ill., April 2.—The campus of Northwestern university buzzed with excitement when it became known that a beautiful and popular freshman coed had been barred from a student theatrical performance because she allowed herself to be photographed in a costume described as "too abbreviated."

The girl, Miss Caroline Smith, Cairo, Ill., is the world's champion woman fancy diver, winning the event at the Olympic games in Paris last summer. She is also an accomplished dancer.

Selected for one of the leading parts in a musical comedy, she was photographed by a student for the purpose of advertising.

Old Neighbors

While clearing land for a golf course at Mount Union, Pa., workmen were obliged to remove an old apple tree. When the ax was laid to the trunk they found near the ground a hen and a nest of eggs. Midway up the tree a nest of red field mice was sheltered from the blasts of winter. Near the top a big screech owl had taken up its habitat. The strange neighbors had evidently been living peacefully under the same rooftree.

GIBBONS AND TUNNEY ARE FINALLY MATCHED

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHTS TO TANGLE IN OPEN AIR SHOW JUNE 12TH

JIMMY DeFOREST TO PROMOTE CONTEST AT POLO GROUNDS

New York, April 2—Tom Gibbons and Gene Tunney are matched to meet in the Polo grounds on June 12. Harry Wills, the negro heavyweight chalenger, finds himself back in his familiar place on the shelf for the season and perhaps for the rest of his career.

Following the hopeless hunch that he would get a match with Jack Dempsey, the big colored boy would not consider an offer to meet Gibbons. Indirectly he let it be known that he would listen if any promoter would talk in terms of $300,000, and that put the silencer on all the promoters.

Instead of getting a good shot this summer, Wills now will have to go to the Bartley Maddens and the second raters that he had been using for years. The only match in sight for him now is one with Joe Stoessel, a big former amateur, who will take less than a fortune for the chance.

Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, was given his money, and Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, will get his end when he arrives from Chicago.

Tunney is the American light heavyweight champion, but his title will not be at stake. The two can come in as heavy as they desire. Gibbons announced after he had knocked out Kid Norfolk that he did not care to remain in the cruiser class, and Tunney has taken on so much weight that he does not care about the title.

Wills practically is out in the cold now. Jimmy de Forest, matchmaker for the Polo Grounds Athletic club, said that he was figuring on matching the winner with Paul Berlenbach, the former amateur wrestler, or with Mike McTigue, the world's light heavyweight champion. He said that he had not made any plans to use Wills for any shows during the summer.

Eddie Kane said that Gibbons would finish his training for the bout in New York, and Tunney, who is now working at Hot Springs, will also do his training here.

When it became known that the match was on, several big bets were made. Gibbons is now an 8 to 5 favorite to win.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.
